Belmont University Christy Houston Foundation Drug Information Center

Belmont University comprises approximately 9,000 students from across the United States and around the world. Committed to being a leader among teaching universities, Belmont brings together the best of liberal arts and professional education in a Christian community of learning and service. The purpose of this portion of the fellowship is to expose fellows to the roles and responsibilities within academia and drug information. Fellows will provide didactic and experiential training to Belmont University School of Pharmacy students, as well as participate in the roles and responsibilities of a drug information specialist in the Christy Houston Foundation Drug Information Center.

Belmont strives to form diverse leaders of character, while equipping people to solve the world's complex problems through teaching, research, and service. To achieve this mission, Belmont fosters an ecosystem for whole-person transformation. Whole-person formation means personal growth in every aspect, including intellectual, emotional, and social. Before progressing to the second year, opportunities are provided to assist in discerning true professional purpose.

FDA – Office of Drug Information

Purpose

The Office of Drug Information (ODI) within FDA's Center for Drug Evaluation and Research (CDER) is the latest partner in this fellowship program, joining in 2023. ODI serves as CDER's central resource for drug information and regulatory support. ODI fulfills its mission by educating the public and providing timely, accurate, and useful information regarding human drug products through traditional outlets.

ODI services span the full range of CDER's mission, including regulatory education and outreach, facilitation of emergency and single-patient expanded access requests, contributing content to drug information and safety-related labeling databases, and professional training and development activities for pharmacists and pharmacy students.

The FDA experience provides an opportunity for fellows to refine their drug information skills in a regulatory setting. Fellows will respond to drug information inquiries from patients, health care professionals, and regulated industry; create and disseminate content; and assist with high-profile initiatives based on their areas of interest and Agency need.

Current Fellows

Martisia Jackson, Pharm.D., MBA, BCMAS

PGY2 Clinical Management Fellow in Drug Information

Sponsors: Belmont University and HealthTrust

Dr. Martisia Jackson earned her Doctor of Pharmacy degree at Mercer University's College of Pharmacy in Atlanta, Georgia, in May of 2025. She currently serves as the second-year Clinical Management Fellow in Drug Information through Belmont University and HealthTrust Performance Group. Dr. Jackson's passion for education and pharmacy is deeply woven throughout her professional and personal life. One of her greatest rewards as an educator is witnessing students experience "eureka moments" in real time as they develop a deeper understanding of complex concepts. Throughout pharmacy school, Dr. Jackson completed her Master's degree in Business Administration with a concentration in Integrative Business and served as an ambassador for the College of Pharmacy. During her PGY1 training, Dr. Jackson served as an instructor for the PHM6128 Evidence-Based Medicine and PHM6315 Biomedical Literature Evaluation courses, contributed to the School of Pharmacy's curriculum committee, and analyzed literature to create responses to drug information questions in the Christy Houston Foundation Drug Information Center. Dr. Jackson is currently completing the PGY2 component of her fellowship at HealthTrust where she will provide support for clinical management initiatives while also continuing to precept APPE students to contribute to the education and development of future pharmacists.

Kennedy Laporte, Pharm.D., BCMAS

PGY2 Regulatory Management Fellow in Drug Information

Sponsors: Belmont University, FDA, and HealthTrust

Dr. Kennedy LaPorte completed her Doctor of Pharmacy degree at the University of Mississippi School of Pharmacy in Oxford, Mississippi, in May 2025. She was inspired to pursue pharmacy after seeing the positive impact pharmacists had on her family members' care during periods of illness. Dr. LaPorte developed a passion for regulatory work during her APPE at the Mississippi Board of Pharmacy, where she witnessed firsthand how regulation can positively impact a broad population. During pharmacy school, she also served as a coordinator at the Jackson Free Clinic, working to extend care and resources to underserved populations throughout Mississippi. This experience further strengthened her desire to protect vulnerable patients through regulatory work. Dr. LaPorte is currently completing her second year as a Regulatory Management Fellow in Drug Information with Belmont University, HealthTrust, and the FDA. Through these partnerships, she hopes to continue expanding her knowledge and experience in pharmaceutical regulation work. Ationally, Dr. LaPorte earned her teaching certificate through the Indiana Pharmacy Teaching Certificate Program (IPTEC) and is a Board-Certified Medical Affairs Specialist.

Current Fellows

Sarah Stogner, Pharm.D.

PGY1 Clinical Management Fellow in Drug Information
Sponsors: Belmont University and HealthTrust

Dr. Sarah Stogner completed her Doctor of Pharmacy degree at Belmont University College of Pharmacy and Health Sciences in Nashville, TN in May of 2026. She currently serves as the first-year Clinical Management Fellow in Drug Information with Belmont University and HealthTrust. Dr. Stogner discovered her interest in medical literature during her APPE rotation at Citrus Health, where she conducted a competitive literature analysis on a rare disease and prepared digestible presentations for non-healthcare professionals. She further solidified this career focus during her rotation at HealthTrust where she was tasked with creating monographs and literature reviews for HealthTrust member hospitals. Dr. Stogner is currently completing the PGY1 portion of her fellowship at Belmont University's School of Pharmacy. She will serve as an instructor for PHM6128 Evidence-Based Medicine and as a subject matter expert for Pharmacy Skills Lab courses. In addition, she will analyze literature to create responses to drug information questions in the Christy Houston Foundation Drug Information Center, precept APPE students, and serve on the Curriculum Committee. Dr. Stogner aims to further refine her teaching approach during her first year to effectively prepare and educate pharmacy students.

Imaru Agholor, Pharm.D.

PGY1 Pharmacy Operations Fellow in Drug Information
Sponsors: Belmont University, FDA, and HealthTrust

Dr. Imaru Agholor completed her Doctor of Pharmacy degree at the University of Tennessee Health Sciences Center College of Pharmacy in Nashville, TN in May of 2026. She currently serves as the first-year Pharmacy Operations Fellow in Drug Information with Belmont University, FDA, and HealthTrust. During her time in school, Dr. Agholor served as the Operations Immunization Chair for APhA-ASP and Co-Service Chair of SNPhA at the Nashville campus. In her service, Dr. Agholor saw the impact that pharmacists make in the community and wanted to continue pursuing a career that can help others on a larger scale. In her Medication Safety APPE rotation at HCA, she experienced firsthand the roles and responsibilities that personnel in the corporate environment accomplish to deliver patient care nationwide. Dr. Agholor is currently completing her PGY1 portion of her fellowship at Belmont University's School of Pharmacy. She will serve as a subject matter expert for the Pharmacy Skills labs and as an instructor for the PHM6128 Evidence-Based Medicine courses. Additionally, Dr. Agholor will respond to drug information questions in the Christy Houston Foundation Drug Information Center, precept APPE students, and serve on the Curriculum Committee.
